FIELD OPERATIONS DIVISION

PATROL SERVICES

The Field Operations Division contains the bulk of the department's personnel. Both patrol and traffic services fall within the Field Operations Division and are staffed with uniformed officers. Patrol and traffic officers are the primary contact for citizens within the community.

Patrol services contain several units and programs on an as-needed basis to accomplish a specific mission. These programs include, but are not limited to, the Police Reserve Unit, Police Explorer unit, community service officers and the canine unit.

TRAFFIC DIVISION

The traffic division of the Pacifica Police Department is a small division, but a very busy one. It consists of one motorcycle officer, and a Sergeant whose collateral duty is as the Traffic Supervisor. The Pacifica Police Traffic division, like the Police Department itself, strives to do, "more with less." A need was identified and the Traffic Division has sought and received many state and federal grants for equipment and overtime for traffic related duties. In 2005, we were part of a multi-jurisdictional grant in which we obtained a fully loaded police motorcycle, which is still in use today. We have also participated in countless Avoid the 23 Campaigns and grants for DUI enforcement and Click it or Ticket grants to promote safety.

In 2006, the traffic division started the CRASH team. A team of dedicated officers, which include the current traffic officer and traffic sergeant and two other members of the department, who are specially trained in accident investigation. This team is available to respond 24 hours a day in the case of a fatal accident on the streets of Pacifica.

FIELD OPERATIONS DIVISION

K9 DIVISION

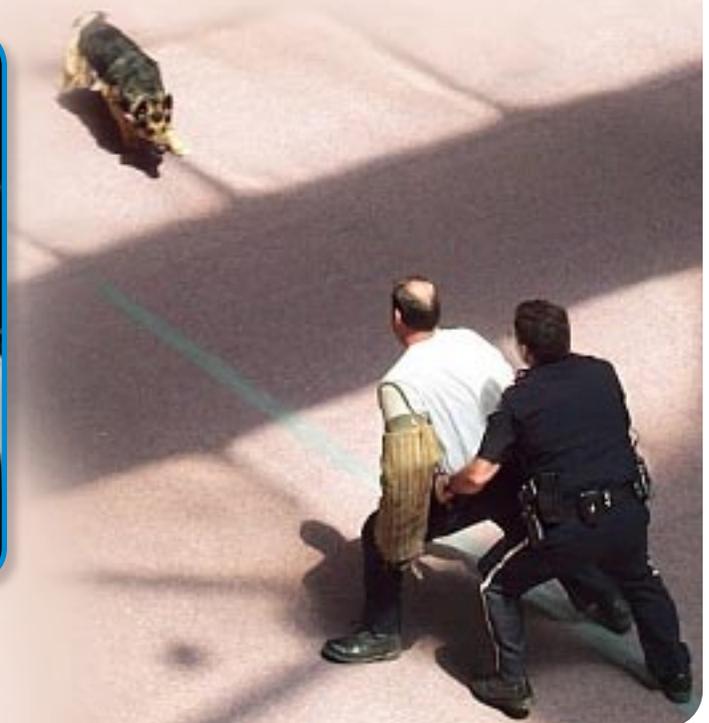

The Pacifica Police K-9 Unit consists of two K-9 teams. The teams are Cpl. Duane Wachtelborn and K-9 "Tiger" and Ofc. Scott Avilla and K-9 "Viko."

Both Cpl. Wachtelborn and Ofc. Avilla were selected to the K-9 Unit in 2003 upon the retirement of K-9 "Valk" after eight years of service. Sergeant Dan Steidle, Valk's handler, stayed on as the K-9 unit supervisor.

The K-9 unit is responsible for assisting the patrol division with the apprehension of criminal suspects. Both "Tiger" and "Viko" have received extensive training in searching for hidden criminal suspects and discarded evidence. Both Cpl. Wachtelborn and Ofc. Avilla have been responsible for numerous arrests utilizing their K-9 partners.

The keen sense of smell that the K-9's have is used for non-apprehension purposes as well. The K-9 teams use this keen sense of smell in searching for missing or lost persons. The K-9 teams use their popularity with the public to promote education and positive citizen-police relations. The K-9 teams conduct many demonstrations throughout the year to educate the community regarding the uses of the police K-9, as well as to foster a good relationship between police and community.

SWAT

In 2006 Sgt. Spanheimer and Cpl. Wachtelborn logged over 120 hours of SWAT activity consisting of both training and actual operations.

Training and skill development remain at the forefront of the SWAT Team. Sgt. Spanheimer and Cpl. Wachtelborn take active roles in this training. Sgt. Spanheimer is the acting repel master, and Cpl. Wachtelborn is the team's resident K9 handler.

Cpl. Wachtelborn's K9 "Tiger" is an integral part of the team. He has gone on every deployment, and is often used to sweep the buildings they have entered to make sure that the team has not missed anybody hiding. "Tiger" can respond to only hand signals and remain in one spot while a suspect is either being challenged verbally or even during the exchange of simunition fire with the suspect.

"Tiger" is equipped with a stab/bullet resistant vest, which he wears on deployments. "Tiger" is the only K9 that has regular team standing with a SWAT Team within this county.

FIELD OPERATIONS DIVISION

RESERVE POLICE OFFICERS

Reserve Police Officers are a special category of police officer authorized by state law to augment full-time, paid police officers. They are volunteers who donate their time to supplement the regular patrol force. They apply for a variety of reasons and come from a broad spectrum of society. Many have successful careers outside of law enforcement and choose to volunteer out of a sense of civic pride while others use their experiences to help in their consideration of a career in law enforcement.

Reserve officers have peace officer powers only when on-duty. At all other times, they have the same rights and responsibilities as any citizen, but not peace officer powers. The duties assigned a reserve officer depend on the level of training they have received. Reserve officer training is presently divided into three levels set by the state and is provided through community colleges. The College of San Mateo provides the first two levels of training in this county, although reserve classes at any college's state-approved program is acceptable. The completion of each level of training increases the responsibilities that a reserve officer may be assigned. The last level of training is equal to a basic police academy for a reserve officer and may allow the department to utilize the reserve officer in any capacity it desires.

The Pacifica Police Department generally uses reserve officers to assist full-time officers in their daily patrol duties as well as with special assignments such as traffic control, transportation, parades, picnics, surveillance and special recreation or school events. All safety equipment and an initial uniform allowance are provided by the department.

The department has authorization for up to 30 reserve officers. Applications are accepted continuously. Applicants go through the same extensive screening process as full-time officers and must then complete a minimum of 200 hours of in-field training. During this training, the reserve officer works the streets of Pacifica with a Field Training Officer.

The Pacifica Police Department is always looking for qualified applicants who desire to volunteer a minimum of 16 hours a month. Many of the department's present full-time officers came from the reserve organization and were sent to an academy for further training by the department when selected.

Applicant Requirements:

- High school graduate or equivalent
- Weight proportional to height
- Visual acuity minimum of 20/100 corrected to no less than 20/30

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS DIVISION

INVESTIGATIONS

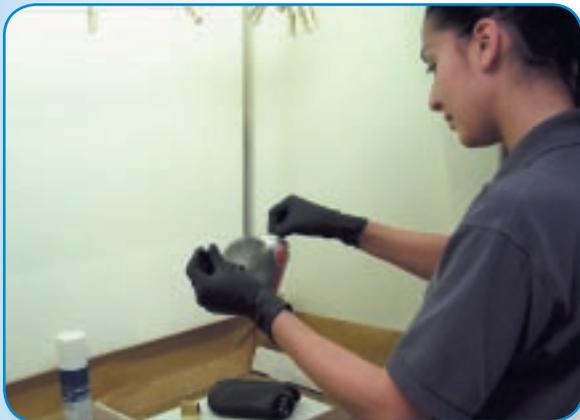

The Criminal Investigative Division is responsible for the investigation and follow-up of all serious offenses that are not solved by the Field Operations Division. Examples of these types of crimes are homicide, armed robbery, rape, burglary, and auto theft. Assigned officers also conduct all investigations that require traveling outside of Pacifica and handle undercover surveillance, undercover investigation, and stakeouts of suspects and problem locations identified throughout the city.

Criminal Investigative Division personnel assist the San Mateo County Gang Task Force when necessary. While personnel are assigned to the Task Force, they remain the responsibility of the Criminal Investigative Division supervisor and commander.

JUVENILE SERVICES

The Juvenile Services sergeant is responsible for investigating the majority of crimes against children, including physical and sexual abuse and child neglect, as well as all missing persons cases and crimes against dependent adults. Juvenile Services receives and processes all juvenile arrests, meets with parents and juveniles to assist with family issues and makes appropriate referrals to other agencies.

The Juvenile Services sergeant also acts as a liaison between the police department and other local, county and state juvenile-related agencies. The Pacifica Police Department also has a School Resource Officer that is assigned to work and interact with the students and staff at all the schools within The City of Pacifica.

CRIME PREVENTION/ COURT LIAISON

The crime prevention officer is responsible for coordinating all crime prevention programs within the City of Pacifica. These programs include Neighborhood Watch, Red Ribbon Week, home/commercial security inspections and plan review.

The crime prevention officer also is in charge of the permit process for all taxicab companies that operate within the City of Pacifica.

The crime prevention officer also handles the court officer duties. This includes filing cases with the San Mateo County District Attorney's Office. This process also includes assisting in obtaining arrest and search warrants.

EVIDENCE

A forensic technician provides technical support in the collection, preservation, photographing and processing of evidence, and also provides expert testimony in both municipal and superior court. The property clerk under the supervision of the forensic technician manages lost and found property, along with evidence

OPERATION '59

In 1996, the City Council authorized the expenditure of $3,000.00 in Narcotics Seizure Funds toward the purchase of a 1959 Chevrolet Biscayne. The car was to be refurbished, with donations, as a duplicate of one of the two original Pacifica Police Department patrol vehicles. It was to be used for crime prevention, and as a means to initiate conversation between teenagers and police officers. It has been more successful than at first believed. Not only does it do what it was designed to do with teenagers, but seems to be a real favorite of the older “baby boomer” generation.

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS

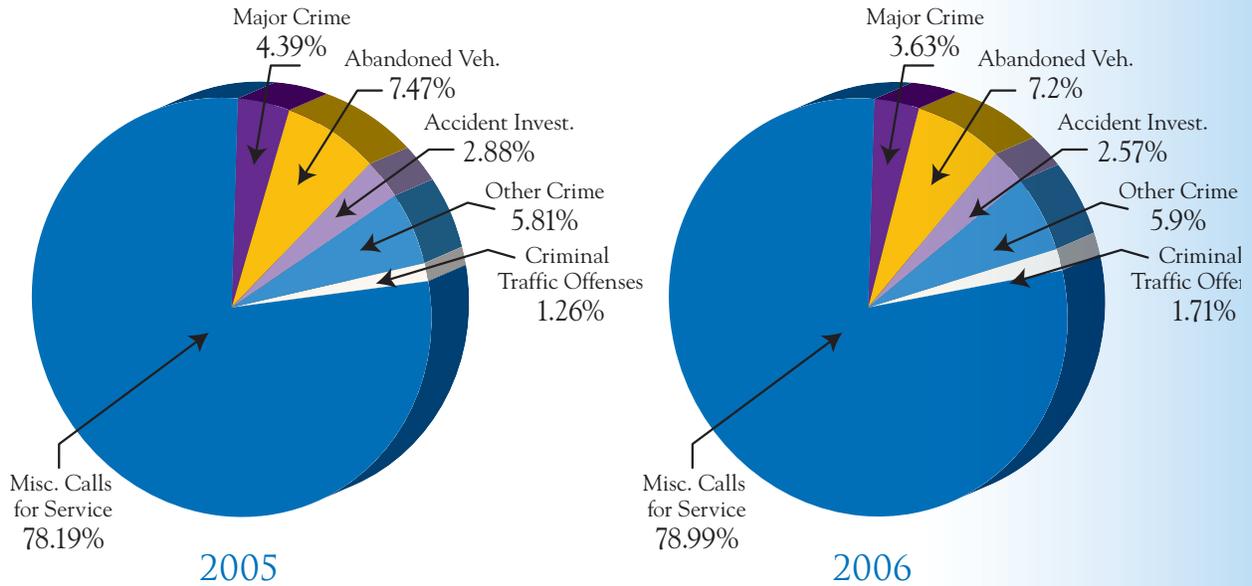

Personnel assigned these responsibilities prepare and maintain an operational emergency management plan for all city departments for use in managing a major disaster. Disaster exercises are conducted within the city in conjunction with the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office of Emergency Services. Personnel assigned to emergency preparedness are trained in the Standard Emergency Management System (SEMS) and National Incident Management System (NIMS) used throughout the State of California.
